The most worshipful grand lodge of Masons in annual session at Masonic temple, Hartford, Wednesday elected officers and received the annual reports officers and received the annual reports from the retiring officers.

Grand Master Wilbur S. Comstock in his annual address said that the past year had proved comparatively uneventful. The grim reaper, death, had taken three past grand masters. Benjamin F. Turner, Middletown; Frank W. Havens, grand secretary emeritus as well, of Hartford, and Leon M. Woodford of Naugatuck. Andrew G. Lippitt of New London, grand senior warden in 1895, had also died. To each of these officers the grand master paid eulogy for their devotions to the paid eulogy for their devotions to the cause of Masonry. at Westville, Suffield and North Haven.

Attention was called to the congested condition of the grand secretary's office owing to lack of room to care for the documents which constantly come in, and inadequate facilities to classify and place them on shelves. The grand master recommended that a special committee consider means of overcoming conditions. A revision of the regulations relating to suspension for non-payment of dues to avoid present complications was also recommended.

Grand Secretary George A. Kies in his report referred to gifts of several books of much value to the grand lodge, including the constitution and by-laws of the grand lodge of Connecticut, edition of 1854, presented by H. B. Phibrick of Hartford. He said arrangements had been made for the early printing and distribution of the doings of the present annual com-munication. For aid of flood sufferers in Ohlo last spring the grand secre-tary received $1,468. In relation to lodge statistics the report stated that returns from 109 lodges for 1913 showed 1,132 initiations, 1,139 passed, 1,190 raised, 67 affiliated. There were 435 deaths. The total membership for the state Dec. 31, 1913, was 24,736, a gain of 610 for the year. The seven lodges dollar the mean and the state of of 510 for the year. The seven lodges doing the most work were: Wooster, New Haven, 51; Continental, Waterbury, 43; Olive Branch, Westville, 36; Hartford of Hartford, 34; St. John's, Hartford, 32; Apollo, Suffield, 32; Corinthian, Bridgeport, 32. Norwich Suffragists Among the Favored Few-Miss Blackstone Reports to Haile Club.

Before the meeting of the Haile club on Wednesday evening, Miss Hadle Blackstone, who, with Miss Annie Monahan, comprised the Norwich representatives in the Connecticut delegation of suffragists who went to Washington, wave en entertaining redelegation of suffragists who want to washington, gave an entertaining report of the very enjoyable trip. One of the particularly interesting points in the experience of the two North they were inin the experience of the two Nor-wich delegates was that they were in-cluded in the favored 25 who first were admitted to see President Wil-son, when the cause of the suffragist was presented to him by those who had been selected to be the spokes-men, or rather spokeswomen. This lucky turn for the Norwich delegates came about because the Connecticut delegation of 33 was at the head of the parade and being nearest was the first to be admitted to see the pres-ident.

Miss Blackstone told the Halle club members in her report that upon reaching New York on last Saturday, reaching New York on last Saturday, they went to the Trades Union rooms and there met a number of the prominent workers in the suffrage cause. One was Mies Rose Nenman, the Russian worker, who secured work at Wauregan, and then wrote up mill conditions there for a Bridgeport paper. She assured them that she had told nothing but the truth and that the report, far from being exaggerated, right have been made worse. In the the report, far from being exaggerated, right have been made worse. In the evening in New York they attended the Votes for Women ball in the 71st regiment armory where there was an attendance of 10,000 people. In New York on Saturday night all the Connecticut delegates were entertained by Mrs. Beard.

On Sunday morning in company with the New York delegation the Connecticut suffragists went on to Washington, one other prominent New York worker they met was Miss Margaret Hinchey who was a leader in in Washington, all the delegates were entertained at the homes of the leading suffragists of the city. Both the Norwich young ladies were entertained in the same family. In the march to the White House on Monday the Connecticut delegation was at the head of the parade, led by band, playing the National Emblem Those who were to speak to the president were given two min-utes each. Those who did the speak-ing here as well as at a mass meeting at Carnegie library, were Miss Rose Schneiderman, Miss Scott of Newark, president of the hatmakers. Miss Hinchey, Miss Rose Winslow of the textile workers, and Mrs. Wax-mann for the unemployed. Miss Winslow made an appeal along health lines Miss Scott advanced the argument that women were forced to work with men and under the same conditions and could therefore be bet-conditions and could inerefore be bet-ter protected if they had the suffrage, and Miss Hinchey appealed to the president as a fellow democrat. The president received them kindly, shaking hands with them, and Mrs. Evans of Boston introduced the speakers. Of course, the president's reply to all was as it always has been, Evans the party must speak first. He couldn't speak for them. "Speak to them, said Mrs. Evans, "and they will listen. She reminded him of his remark to her before his election, and he said he spoke as a private citizen then.

"In other words, you were gunning for votes," said Mrs. Evans. The pres-ident winced under that thrust, and retorted: "I was making an appeal to the voters. the voters."

"Yes, and we worked for you, and you will do nothing for us."

Again declaring he was bound by his party, he asked for the other delegates. "They have been refused admittance," said Mrs. Evans.

"I would like to see them all and shake hands," said the president.

The two Norwich delegates staved.

The two Norwich delegates stayed yer and met Congressmen Reilly, for a social programme which included Mahan, Donovan, Lonergan and Kennedy from Connecticut. Congressmar Reilly was the only one to say definitely that he was in favor of the suffragists. Bill Which Would Russianize America, Vigorously Opposed. Washington, Feb. 4-"This bill at-Washington, Feb. 4—This bill alternpts to Russianize America; it would establish a censorship over the press by the postmaster general. American newspapers will not tolerate it." This was the comment of Senater Hitchcock to fellow members of the senate banking and currency committee today at the opening of the hearing on the stock exchange regulation bill offered by Chairman Owen.

The bill provides for denial of the mails to stock exchanges which violate restrictions imposed by the meas-ure and would require the incorporation of stock exchanges under state Senator Hitchcock declared the measure was an attempt to take from the states powers and duties which were purely domestic an din no sense He asserted that the wording of the bill would give the postmasted general absolute supervision of news concerning stock exchanges which papers outside of the cities where the exchanges were located might wish to print.

Mr. Untermyer insisted that the pow er given the postmaster general was limited; that only transactions of a traudulent character would be barred from the mails.

"The press always has been jealous of the postoffice privileges," he said "fearing that regulations might some time reach to libelous matter."

"As a newspaper man I take exception to that statement," said Senator Hitchcook "The mean of the present of the prese Hitchcock. "The papers resist only an attempt to place in the hands of any one man the power to censor publica-tions. The freedom of the press is a fundamental principle of our constitution."

SISTER CONTESTS WILL OF MRS. JAMES A. BAILEY. Barnum's Partner in Circus Business Left Estate of $4,000,000.

White Plains, N. Y., Feb. 4.—The trial of the suit in a contest over the estate of the late James A. Balley, who was the partner of P. T. Barnum in the circus business, was begun in the supreme court here today. Mrs. Anna Isabelle Hutchinson of Bridgeport, Conn., sister of the late widow of Bailey, is the contestant. The estate is said to be worth about $4,000,000. Baiey left his property to his widow, under whose will Mrs. Hutchinson re-ceives an annual income of $10,000. The plaintiff alleges undue influence was exerted over her sister by rela-tives and an executor of the estate.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thou-sands wear glasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to Lee and Osgood or any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily, and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astighave been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this pre-scription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be nec-essary. Thousands who are blind, or nearly so, or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not be-come one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the pre-scription here given.

THESTYLISH BRACELET

One can never tell why the or that plece of jeweiry springs into public favor, but we are inclined to believe the bracelet has met with such universal favor on account of the many expulsite examples to salect exquisite examples to select from and its general appropri-ateness and neatnes in offset-ting milady's costume. We are rather proud of the line we are showing. On account of the time and care we used in making our selections we have now a showing the second to none. You will be pleased—or we will consider it our fault.

Prices are most reasonable$3.00 to $30.00.
